Sistem Air is glad to introduce the flexible hose with wireless technology. A revolutionary way of cleaning your home.

Reliable

The lack of the electric wire makes this hose extremely flexible and resistant. Moreover, the electronic components used have a lifetime guarantee: it is sufficient to exchange the batteries when they are low.

Flisy can be used with any central vacuum system provided with inlet valves electrically connected to allow a remote start up.

The fitting cuff is provided with an integrated wireless system which allows high ease of movement.

Light

Thanks to wireless technology we eliminated the electric wire which used to be installed in the flexible hose. This way the flexible hose is much lighter and handier.

Now you can move in your house with maximum freedom.

Comfortable

You can start up and stop your central vacuum cleaner by pressing the button on the handgrip: this gives you maximum freedom during your cleaning activities.

Universal

Flisy was completely developed by Sistem Air, which put all its specific experience at your service. The result is a product which combines technology and design, ergonomics and functionality.

Flisy is compatible with any cleaning accessory on sale.

The handgrip, ergonomic and appealing, gives you extreme ease of handling.
